

Descendants of Thomas Gladney

Generation No. 1

1. Thomas⁴ Gladney (Richard³, William², Richard¹) was born 1749 in Kinbally, County Antrim, Ireland, and died 22 Apr 1820 in Jackson Creek, Fairfield County SC. He married Nancy Agnes Martin Abt. 1783, daughter of Robert Martin and Mary Martin. She was born Abt. 1765 in Jackson Creek, Fairfield County SC, and died 1827 in Jackson Creek, Fairfield County SC.

Notes for Thomas Gladney:

Thomas, youngest of the four Gladney brothers, was neighbor to Robert Martin, Sr., and Ann Martin. Edward Martin, a brother of these two, became a Captain in the colonial forces, South Carolina Militia. Robert fought with that unit also. One of Robert Martin Sr.'s daughters, Agnes, was a young widow with a small daughter. Thomas Gladney married Agnes Martin before 1781, or early in that year.

The 1790, "heads of household" census enumeration lists Thomas Gladney: 1 male over 16 years of age; 3 males under 16, and three females. Margaret, his stepdaughter, afterward married Moses Paul. By the time that Thomas made his will, he had already given land to his two oldest sons, Richard and Robert, thereby discharging his obligation to them.

The graves of Thomas, and his wife Agnes Martin, are honored with DAC/DAR markers. The SC Department of Archives and History has the following record of his service to the American Revolution: "Wagon Hire: September 1778; 99 days with his wagon and team in Fairfield County, SC, Camden District." Thomas and Agnes had seven children together, and he adopted her daughter as his own.

Notes for William Alexander Kerr:

After death of his parents, William's mother's brother, William Strong Gladney was his court appointed guardian.

In the year 1901 a U.S. Post Office was in operation in the home of Sarah Jane Hutchinson Kerr and William Alexander Kerr. Rural free delivery was nonexistent at that time in the area; so every few miles there was a small post office. The closest neighbor offices were "Tampa" at Joe and Maggie (Stevenson) Carr's place, "Rome" at Harry Tabor's home, about two miles further down the road was "Rural Hill." People walked or rode horses to Kerr about three times a week to pick up their incoming mail or leave their outgoing mail.

The job of transporting bags of mail from one post office to the next office was contracted and horseback was the mode of travel.

In 1906, a son and his wife, Henry Davis Kerr and Bennie Anna Van Landingham Kerr took over the post office.

The steel stamp saying Kerr, Mississippi which has a wooden handle and was used to cancel postage stamps, was found under the original house in 1948. At that time the dwelling that contained the post office of "Kerr" was torn down to build the present home of Emmette and Eloise (Kerr) Whitmire.

(Written by Bessie Eloise Kerr Whitmire for the "Families of Choctaw County Mississippi".)

Notes for Robert Milton Holder:

HOLDER'S FAITH IS A LESSON

A prominent Atlanta financier, noted for his bold, grandiose ventures, admits that some of his proposals were first greeted with horse laughs.

Robert M. Holder, a widely known real estate developer, recalls that he was "the laughingstock of the industrial world" when he revealed plans to develop the Peachtree Industrial District.

Today the dazzling strip of warehouses, factories, and distribution centers is a model industrial development and a multi-million dollar asset to the Atlanta economy. Among other things, it includes one of the nation's largest automobile assembly plants.

Though the Atlanta area is still the focal point of Bob Holder's interests, he is boldly reaching out into other parts of the country with more dramatic schemes.

His latest enterprise involves three of the New York Central's handsome passenger terminals in the Great Lakes region. Mr. Holder heads Station Development Enterprises, Inc., a syndicate which earlier this week signed a six-month option agreement with the NYC to lease or purchase the railroad's passenger stations in Cleveland, Buffalo, Syracuse, and Rochester.

The Central, plagued with a mounting passenger deficit, is anxious to dispose of the properties. The Cleveland facility alone is valued at more than $20 million. Mr. Holder's company plans to develop the valuable downtown properties "possibly as shopping centers or major office facilities for business interests."

Recently he announced plans for developing a potential gold mine at Galveston, Texas. Pelican Island, now joined to the city by a gleaming new bridge, offers vast industrial opportunities. Mr. Holder and two other Atlanta businessmen have lined-up several industrial prospects for the 5,000-acre tract.

Mr. Holder is also a director for a company that plans to overbuild the vast rail system west of the Spring street viaduct.

But his first love is the mammoth Southeastern Merchandise Mart and coliseum planned for Gwinnett County. The project is now "over the hump," he said, and construction is scheduled to begin in April.

Among his past successes was his part in helping to sell Uncle Sam on locating the Atlanta General Depot on the Conley site. Mr. Holder admits there are some failures in his past, but he never dwells on them.

"You've got to weigh the risks from the start, then plunge in and give it all you've got. Never worry about failure," he advised.

Bob Holder is a Georgia boy, born in Forsyth and reared in Tifton. After finishing Tifton High School at the age of 15, he joined the Army in 1917. He was big for his age (six feet, 185 pounds) and the recruiting sergeant never doubted that he was 18.

After the war, he went to work with a real estate man in Jacksonville. While living there, he married Ernestine Gladney of Hastings Fla. He came to Atlanta in 1929, and in 1934 opened his own real estate firm.

His two children, Robert Jr. and Gladney, now Mrs. Francis James Hazel, Jr., have given him three grandchildren each.

His associates know him as a whirlwind of energy and imagination. Yet his actions are usually deliberate and unhurried. He spurns "mahogany walls and thick carpets" and maintains a modest, unpretentious office on the fifth floor of the Atlanta Title Building.

Notes for Stephanie Ann Best:

STEPHANIE BEST COMPETES ON US TEAM

Stephanie Best has hit the big time - that is, as far as competitive running is concerned. Stephanie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Best, placed 2nd in the National Championships in June and will be on the US team for the World Championships in Seville, Spain in late August.

Stephanie grew up in New Orleans, LA. However, she has spent almost every summer of her life in Santa Fe, New Mexico because of her father, bassoon player Crawford Best. He played for orchestras in New Orleans (28 years) and

Minnesota (7 years) in the winter and during the summer months was with the Santa Fe Orchestra as player and personnel manager. (Last year they moved to Santa Fe full time.)

She won many honors as an athlete in her school years. She was several times the state champion in cross country and the mile in high school. In college she was NCAA Division I All-American six times. She was the Cornell Daily Sun's Athlete of the Year her senior year.

Her 1500 m. time is still among the top ten ever run by an American collegian.

She has continued to run competitively and was the 1996 Indoor National Champion in the mile.

This year she has lowered her fastest time in the 1500 m., from 4 minutes 9 seconds, to 4 minutes 6 seconds. Her sponsor is the shoe company Asics. Oakley (sun-glass manufacturers) is rumored to be interested, as well.

A side note: No matter the outcome, this dedicated young woman is to be admired. We are very proud of her. The Gladney Gram wishes her all the best! (Editor's note: The race was run on 28 August. Stephanie placed 13th in a preliminary heat and did not run in the final.)
